KILLED BY JOY.

Major William Downie Dies Under Fatal Circumstances.

Major William Downie is dead, and no old pioneer of forty-nine ever passed away under more pathetic circumstances. He was on his way to rejoin his old associates of pioneer days at the forty-nine mining camp in the Midwinter exposition when he suddenly expired.

He had come all the way from Victoria, B. C., to occupy the same old cabin in the mining camp that had been his abode when he dug for gold in the days of the gold rush, and just as the steamer arrived in port and a representative of the mining camp was telling him of the grand old times that awaited him when the fair opened his heart swelled with joy and burst, and he fell over dead.

All this happened on the deck of the steamer City of Puebla, and as soon as it could be done his body was removed to the home of his son, W. J. Downie, 1822 Telegraph avenue, Oakland.

Major Downie was one of the best known pioneers of the state. He was the founder of Downieville, the one time thriving mining camp, and of which he was the patriarch.

His cabin at Downieville has long been a relic that was cherished by the inhabitants of that section of the state because of its old associations, and the promoters of the mining camp enterprise at the Midwinter exposition had it removed to the fair grounds as an attraction for fair visitors. As an additional attraction arrangements were made through Major Downie's son for him to come to San Francisco and occupy the cabin while the fair lasted.—San Francisco Examiner.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A triumph of mechanical ingenuity, and as it is in its line, is recorded at the celebrated tin works, Swansea, Wales. The iron from which the sheet was rolled was worked in a fiery with charcoal and the usual blast afterward brought to the hammer to be formed into a regular flat bottom, thence conveyed to the bulging furnace, and when sufficiently heated taken up to the rolls, lengthened and cut by shears into proper lengths, piled up and transferred to the balling furnace again. When heated, it was passed through the rolls, back again into the balling furnace, and when duly brought to the proper pitch taken to the rolls and made into a thorough good bar. Subsequently, at the tin mills, it was rolled till it was supposed to be thinner than 23 grains, afterward passed through the cold rolls to insure the necessary polish, the result being the thinnest sheet of iron ever rolled—that is, the sheet was 10 by 3 1/2 inches, or 35 inches in surface, of only 20 grains weight, which, being brought to the standard of 9 by 5 1/2 inches, or 44 surface inches, is but 16 grains, or 80 per cent less than previous attempts, at least 4,800 being required to make one inch in thickness.

Balmy odors from spicy islands wafted by the tropic breeze; SOZODONT in healthful fragrance cannot be surpassed by these. Teeth it whitens, purifies; You will use it if you're wise.

BREVITIES.

J. M. Fulton went below last night. Senator Foley returned yesterday from San Francisco.

Fifteen cars of beef cattle were shipped from Reno to San Francisco yesterday.

Sam Longabaugh of Empire came down on last night's train and changed cars for California.

The Appeal says a man remarked yesterday in Carson that things were so quiet one could hear a Mint drop.

Mrs. Aguayo is reported as slightly improved, though still seriously ill. The Journal hopes to record her speedy recovery.

A riot occurred in London one day last week, caused by an attempt by the police to disperse a mob of unemployed.

Ten cars of cattle came in from Amodee Thursday evening, five of which belong to G. W. Mapes, four to A. M. Willey and one to Olin Ward.

At Hot Springs, Esmeralda county, a new spring of cold water has made its appearance at the base of a large rock which separates two hot springs.

About three inches of snow fell here yesterday. A heavy snow storm was reported in the mountains and snow plows have been running for two or three days.

It is said by one who knows that the "Coiner" and "Melter and Refiner" at the Mint do nothing but draw their salaries. The assistants do the work, and the principals look wise.

H. B. Griffin, who figured prominently at Amodee a year or two ago, was arrested recently on a charge of felony at San Jose, California. He was discharged on a writ of habeas corpus.

The hailstorm is always enveloped in a greenish black cloud, and often the tornado, also. The latter is more generally in a copper-colored cloud shading in orange and buff. The quantity of electricity they contain, or their electric tension, regulates these colors.

The silver market is demoralized and so is the wheat market. Silver is selling at a little over half its coinage value and wheat is selling in Chicago and San Francisco at prices below any on record. Farmers as well as miners have cause for denouncing goldbugs of all parties.

Dixon Bros. are serving to their numerous customers some of the finest young beavers ever placed on a butcher's block in Reno. They also have the best of meats of all descriptions that can be obtained including ranch-raised hogs. Give them a call and procure a good piece of meat for Sunday.

To-morrow will be the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday, and a memorial service will be held at the Court-house at 7 p. m., consisting of music and an address by Mr. Maynard upon "Abraham Lincoln." All are cordially invited to attend. Members of the W. R. C. and G. A. R. are especially invited to be present.

A DARING TRAIN ROBBERY.

Last Evening's V. & T. Express Train Held Up.

$7,000 SECURED BY THE ROBBER.

Express Messenger Page Compelled to Hand Over Paymaster Mills' Tin Box by a Lone Train Robber.

The V. & T. passenger train was held up last evening by a lone train robber about three quarters of a mile this side of Carson City, and Paymaster George T. Mills' tin box secured. It is supposed to have contained about $7,000. The particulars of the robbery are as follows:

The passenger train left Carson on time, in the midst of a driving snow storm. Paymaster Mills, Conductor Joe McCormack, Prof. R. D. Jackson of the State University and one or two others were sitting in the smoking car talking. About ten minutes after the train pulled out it slowed up and came to a full stop. Brakeman Harvey De Hart went forward, but almost immediately returned and said to Conductor McCormack, "I think we are held up." The latter and Mr. Mills then went into the express car, where was Express Messenger John F. Page.

THE ROBBERY.

A robbery had been committed, sure enough. Messenger Page stated that a few minutes before, while the train was running as usual, he was in the forward part of the car fixing a tag on a box of express matter. Suddenly the door in front of him was burst in by a terrible blow which whirled it open so suddenly that it bruised his hand upon the box he was tagging. At the same moment a man appeared on the threshold armed with a shot gun, with which he covered the messenger, ordering him at the same time to hand over Paymaster Mills' tin box. There was nothing for the messenger to do but comply. The robber then ordered him to ring the bell and stop the train, which he was likewise forced to do. When the train had slackened sufficiently, the robber jumped off and disappeared in the storm.

THE TRAIN ORDERED BACK TO CARSON. Paymaster Mills at once ordered the train to return to Carson, but the delay of ten minutes or more had given the highwayman a splendid start.

On arriving at Carson Mr. Mills remained over to organize a posse and hunt the robber, while the train continued on to Reno.

It was stated by the passengers that the footprints of the highwayman in the snow where he ran down the track into Carson could be plainly seen, but after reaching the city they became lost in those made by other persons. It is quite certain that he reached the city before the train.

THE ROBBER DISGUISED.

Messenger Page stated that the robber wore heavy false whiskers and false mustache, and that he noted the color of his eyes, his height and general appearance and thinks he would be able to identify him. He, however, refused to divulge the man's description, as it might hinder his capture.

The exact amount of money secured is not known, but a passenger on the train stated that he overheard Mr. Mills tell Conductor McCormack that the box contained about $7,000. The money was to have been used in paying the salaries of employees on the V. & T. and O. & C. railroads, beginning at this end to-day.

BELIEVED HE HAD CONFEDERATES.

It is believed that the robber could not possibly have carried the box of money back to Carson with him and made such good time as he did. In this case he must have either secreted it or have had confederates who assisted him in his escape.

He was undoubtedly upon the train when it pulled out of Carson or sprang on before it had gone very far. The night was so stormy that if he stood between the cars there was little danger of his being observed. Some are of the opinion that he was upon the top of the car when the train left Carson and afterwards climbed down, but this is not probable. At any rate, the stormy night was in his favor, both to aid him in accomplishing the deed and to obliterate all tell-tale marks of his flight.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Storm and Warm Waves—Extremes in March—About Clouds.

Copyrighted 1894 by W. T. Foster.

St. JOSEPH, Mo., February 9.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm waves to cross the continent from the 11th to the 15th and 17th to 21st. The next will reach the Pacific coast about the 22d, cross the western mountains by the close of the 23d, the Great Central valleys from the 24th to 26th and the Eastern States about the 27th.

This disturbance will pass through the central portions of the United States and an average rainfall or snow may be expected over a large part of the country.

The warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 23d, the Great Central valleys about the 24th, and the Eastern States about the 26th. The cool wave will cross the Western mountains about the 25th, the Great Central valleys about the 27th and the Eastern States about March 1st.

March will have great extremes of weather, immense rains and snows, and altogether the greatest variety of weather, the greatest extremes that have occurred in March for years.

This condition will continue till about the 7th of April, after which dry cold weather will continue to the end of the month.

The weather looks bad for spring farming and while nine times out of ten early planting is best this year appears to be the exception and, in the northern corn belt planting in May will be more successful than earlier planting.

These difficulties, however will probably be remedied, to some extent, by favorable weather later in the season and late frosts in the Fall.

Killing April frosts are threatened in Southern latitudes where April frosts sometimes occur. Fair crops are expected for 1894. Rainy years seldom cause crop failures. Those who desire more particulars may enclose stamped and addressed envelope.

CLOUDS.

There are really no distinct divisions of clouds and class them as we may, one class so gradually merges into the two nearest in appearance that it is quite difficult to distinguish where one stops and another begins.

Meteorologists have divided clouds into five general classes: stratus, cirrus, cumulus, cirro-cumulus and nimbus. The stratus is the bed or covering cloud, which, at all seasons, but more especially in Autumn, appears near sunset and rests all night, till sunrise in the morning, along the edge of the horizon. These clouds seem to be formed from a kind of mist or fog thrown up by the earth, or that has settled down from the dissolved cumulus, is positively electrified and but little dew falls when they prevail. They are whitish gray, and must be distinguished from what are sometimes called cirro-stratus. The latter are of lead color and heavy dews fall when they prevail. Stratus clouds indicate rain and no dew while the cirro-stratus, belonging to the same class, indicate heavy dews and no rain.

THE CIRRUS

Is a curled cloud with recurved tufts or wisps. It is the highest of all clouds and is either the outflow over the up-heaving column of a low barometer, or remnant or skeleton of an exhausted storm center. They generally precede rains and when they enlarge and become dense they indicate copious rains. When their edges are sharply defined upon an intense deep blue sky they indicate heavy thunder storms.

THE CUMULUS CLOUDS

Are readily distinguished by their heaped or pilea appearance which is the meaning of the word cumulus. When detached cumulus clouds gather together they form what are called stacked clouds, which is the transition state between the cumulus and the nimbus. The stacked cloud rapidly passes into the nimbus. When stacked clouds become capped with a hood cloud, like mountains often appear, or when the cirrus above them enlarges and increases in density, then heavy storms are near at hand.

THE CIRRO-CUMULUS CLOUD

Is intermediate between the cirrus and cumulus. The sky, when flecked with cirro-cumulus clouds has received the common appellation "mackerel-backed." They always indicate that an electric change is going on and the near approach of a low barometer and a rise in temperature. In winter they indicate the breaking up of frosts and the coming on of rainy weather. The nimbus is the storm or rain cloud and the last stage of cloud formation. It passes away by dissolving into rain. It is intensely electric in consequence of which it has an orange hue in day time and at night is more or less luminous.

No rain ever falls and none need be apprehended when a gray sky prevails, but the deeper the serenity and the more intensely blue the sky is, the more certain it is that copious rains will soon fall.

When the margin of the cloud is sharply defined upon the sky the involutions and convolutions of cloud upon cloud, equally well defined, and the clouds appear smooth as though composed of ice, they furnish unmistakable warnings of storms of great energy.

DARK CLOUDS

Are sometimes called wind clouds. They are dark because heavily charged with electricity and thus being heavily charged is the cause of strong winds being connected with them, for electricity is the cause of all regular wind currents.

Heat will evaporate water and cold will condense the transparent vapors into clouds, but these are not the principal causes. The principal cause of evaporation and cloud formation is electrical. The electric currents coming down through the ten great permanent high barometers, one of which covers each of the five great oceans south and another north of the equator, evaporate the ocean waters and carry the moisture into the low barometers of the continents. Here the electric currents rise to such great heights that the vapors are dropped and continue to fall back till the atmosphere will no longer hold them and then rain results.

THE SODA FOUNTAIN IN RUINS.

Another Fire Breaks Out in the Building—An Astonished Insurance Adjuster.

A second blaze occurred in the "Soda Fountain" yesterday morning about 9 o'clock, which nearly completed the destruction of that institution.

An adjuster of the insurance company had just arrived on the morning's train, and was leisurely reviewing the edifice from the street and allowing estimates to chase each other through his mind as to the probable loss at the last fire and the cost of the structure, when the fire fiend, hovering around, seeming to suspect by the gentleman's facial contortions that he was somewhat puzzled and concluding it would be inadvisable for a second visit by the adjuster, came to his aid as suddenly as it was opportune, and the gentleman was completely paralyzed for a moment by seeing a volume of smoke burst out of the roof and openings and the building was again the scene of a conflagration. He collected his shattered senses sufficiently so that the interests of his company were uppermost in his thoughts, and screamed "fire" with a gusto that would have made the war-hoop of a flute seem insignificant. The firemen were soon on the ground and kept the fire confined to the building, and the gentlemanly adjuster retired with the remark that it would be an easy job to adjust the loss. The building is a charred mass and cannot be repaired.

MEMENTO OF THE FREMONT PARTY.

A Curio to be Exhibited at the Midwinter Fair.

The News says: A pair of deer horns that were hung on a tamarack tree 45 years ago by the Fremont party in Lost Canyon, Mono county, California, were brought to Carson Thursday night by Mr. Owens of Antelope Valley. The block of the tree that contains the horns is about two feet in diameter and was cut twelve feet from the ground. It is quite a curio, the prongs of the horns protruding through the bark, the tree having grown over the horns. Mr. Owens will ship them to the Midwinter Fair.

THE RULE DRIFT.

What is Being Done to Reach the Hidden Treasure.

In the Consolidated California & Virginia the 1,000 level southwest (Rule) drift is still being advanced on that course. The northeast drift on the 1,000 level of the Best & Belcher is being reopened at the rate of nearly 100 feet a week and is expected to connect with the Rule drift about March 1st. "Air connections and safety exits are the first thing to be considered in underground work," said Superintendent Lyman yesterday. In answer to the inquiry whether west or east crosscuts will be run from the Rule drift after an air connection is made, Mr. Lyman said he was not prepared to answer that query, as he had not been informed on that point by Mr. Rule.

A letter received from Mr. Rule yesterday stated that he expected to visit the Comstock next week, when it is probable that he will indicate in what direction further explorations on the 1,000 level will be conducted.—Enterprise.

Only a Scar Remains

Scrofula Cured—Blood Purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'It is with pleasure that I send a testimonial concerning what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for my daughter. It is a wonderful medicine and I cannot recommend it too highly. Sarah, who is fourteen years old, has been Afflicted With Scrofula ever since she was one year old. For five years she has had a running sore on one side of her face. We tried every remedy recommended, but nothing did her any good until we commenced using Hood's Sarsaparilla. My married daughter advised me to use Hood's Sarsaparilla because it had cured her of dyspepsia. She had been troubled with that complaint since childhood, and since her cure she has never been without a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. We commenced giving it to Sarah about one year ago, and it has conquered the running sore,

Only a Scar Remaining as a trace of the dreadful disease. Previous to taking the medicine her eyesight was affected but now she can see perfectly. In connection with Hood's Sarsaparilla we have used Hood's Vegetable Pills, and find them the best." Mrs. MARIA GRIFFIN, Xenia, Illinois.

Hood's Pills cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or is it a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower
is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither minerals nor oils. It is not a dye, but a deliciously cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions by the use of Skookum Root Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $2.00 per bottle; 1 for $3.00. Soap, 50c per jar; 1 for $2.50.

He loved the winsome lass with a love none the less ardent because she was a clerk in a dry goods store, and he had met her there behind the counter when he had come in to make purchases.
But she was no ordinary girl, and he knew that if he won her as his own it would be no easy conquest.
For weeks and weeks he had been to see her, and for weeks he had hesitated on the brink of a proposal which involved all his happiness.
Yet the girl did not seem to realize how near she was to him, nor that any moment might precipitate the final question.
However, these things cannot continue forever, and one Sunday afternoon as they were walking his voice became so low and tremulous, and she looked up shyly into his face.
"Christina," he whispered, "may I ask you a question?"
"Certainly, George," she assented frankly. "What is it?"
"Will you be my wife?"
She turned as if a shelf were behind her.
"I'm very sorry," she said softly. "Is there anything else today?"—Detroit Free Press.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.
The Baby Didn't Cry.
An Albany couple have received a silver medal for their baby because it did not cry. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah D. Robertson of 522 Clinton avenue. In the autumn they went to the World's fair and took the baby along. They occupied berths in a sleeping car, and the baby endured the jolting without a whimper. In the morning a woman who occupied a berth adjoining asked Mrs. Robertson where she and the baby had taken the train. Mrs. Robertson said she had been on the train all night, in fact over since leaving Albany. The woman and others were so surprised at having a baby in a sleeping car all night without hearing it cry that a subscription was taken up on the car, with the result that the silver medal for the baby arrived a few weeks ago.—Albany Correspondent.

American Ferryboats to Bologno.
The Fairfield Shipbuilding company, at Govan, has just laid down in its works at Govan a new light draft paddle steamer, which is to be built on the American principle, with four decks. This vessel, ordered by Mr. Arnold Williams, and intended for a new company registered as the Palace Steamer company, will cost $200,000 and is intended for a new summer service either to Bologno or to Ostend, or to both alternately, and her engines, capable of securing a continuous speed of 20 knots, will allow of the return journey being made to either place from London in a day. The ship will be completed by June.—West.

A FAIR Trial.
Saparilla given to a child for a cure. It is an honest and reliable remedy advertised and it honestly cures.

Scolding is mostly a habit. It is of ten the result of nervousness and an irritable condition of both mind and body. A person is tried or annoyed at some trivial cause and forthwith commences finding fault with everything and everybody within reach. Scolding is a habit very easily formed. It is as unbecoming as it is unbecoming habit. Persons who once get into the way of scolding always find some thing to scold about. If there is nothing to scold about, they begin scolding at the mere presence of anything to scold at. It is an extremely disagreeable habit. It is contagious. Once introduced into a family, it is pretty certain in a short time to affect all the members.—Exchange.

Cremation in Pennsylvania.
The cremation of Sir Samuel Baker, the African explorer, calls attention to the fact that many prominent Philadelphians have been cremated, and others are provided by will for that disposition of their remains. All the Pennsylvania funerals for burning up bodies are kept quite busy. This disposition of remains usually implies the absence of Christian burial, as few evangelical ministers will officiate at a cremation. It has been decided that a member of a lodge who is cremated cannot have a Masonic funeral in this state.—Philadelphia Times.

Help is Wanted.
By the women who are ailing and suffering, or weak and exhausted. And, to every such woman, help is guaranteed by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For young girls just entering womanhood; women at the critical "change of life;" women approaching confinement; nursing mothers, and every woman who is "run-down" or overworked, it is a medicine that builds up, strengthens, and regulates, no matter what the condition of the system. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and bracing nerve, and the only guaranteed remedy for female complaints and weaknesses. In bearing down sensations, periodical pains, ulceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.
